Jill Holly to entertain September 7

by Jeff Klenklen

"Very energetic performer, highly recommended." — Gateway Tech.

"I was very impressed with her performance — excellent singing. Jill can really relate to her audience..." — Lecia Rose, NWTI

"We are really proud to say that we had worked with you before you achieved your destined stardom." — University of Carbondale, Southern Illinois.

"Fantastic Voice" — St. Norbert College.

These are just a few of the rave reviews that Jill Holly has recently received on her concert appearances. Now the Avila Community will have their chance to add to these reviews, as Jill Holly makes a concert performance September 7, at 8 p.m. in the Marian Centre.

The first time you hear Jill Holly perform, you'll probably ask yourself what a lot of other audiences ask... "What is she doing here?" Then, you'll probably wonder why she's not fronting for some big act or doing her own "main stage" concert. Well, Jill hasn't been around all that long. Less than four years in the music business is hardly, as they say, "paying your dues." But it's not going to be much longer. When you hear her, you'll know why.

As an accomplished vocalist, Jill Holly has all the desirable qualities and then some. It is easy to appreciate her control, variety, crisp concise note to note, word to word phrasing, not to mention a three octave range. It's more than her vocal quality... it's an emotion or an inner part of herself she gives to you with each song.

As a total performer, Jill Holly accompanies herself effortlessly on the piano, as well as the six and twelve string guitars. As outstanding as her vocal and song-writing abilities are, her accompaniment is as strong and as passionate as both her vocals and compositions.

A highly skilled and sensitive performer, with the professionalism of a ten year veteran, Jill Holly has a rare and complete talent. After an evening with Jill Holly, you will want to see her and enjoy her again. Jill Holly is truly a TOTAL ENTERTAINER. You will want her back!

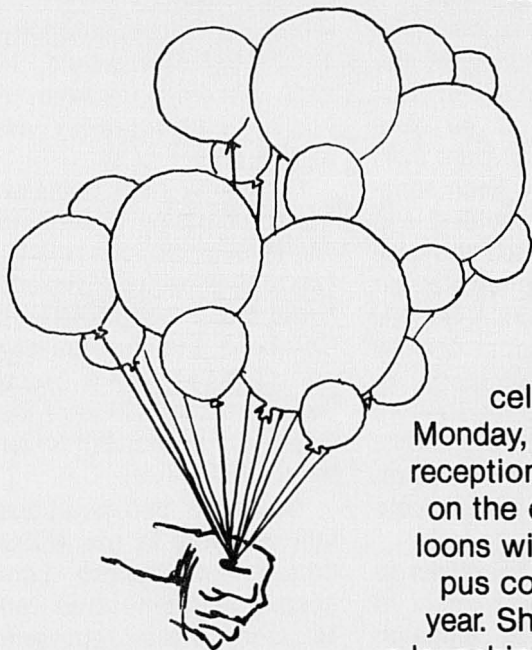

Entertainer Jill Holly will be performing Wednesday, September 7, at noon on the Quad and at 8 p.m. in Marian Centre. This concert is free to the Avila community, sponsored by the Student Union Board and funded through the Student Activity Fee.

Fall of 1983 marks 20th year, Celebration to begin next week

The fall of 1983 marks the celebration of twenty years for Avila. In 1963, Blasco and O'Rielly Halls opened on the new campus which had changed its name from St. Theresa to Avila in continued honor of St. Teresa of Avila. The new campus and new name were public changes for a college which has built quality education on a foundation dating back to 1916 and the continuous sponsorship of the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet.

To begin this special year of celebration and recognition of the college's growth and development, a special Mass of the Holy Spirit will be celebrated at 1 pm in Goppert Theatre on Monday, September 12. Following the service, a reception and celebration activities will be held on the campus quadrangle. Twenty helium balloons will be released by members of the campus community with notices of our twentieth year. Should weather permit, there will also be a launching of a hot air balloon carrying campus personalities.

Please take an hour or two to share in this celebration of Avila.

The Mid-America Dance Company returns to Avila's stage approximately two years after their premier Kansas City performances in Goppert Theatre.

Exposure '83 to offer Campus involvement details

Exposure '83 is one's chance to become familiar with Avila's organizations. On Wednesday, September 7, the Student Union Board and Avila College Student Government will sponsor the third annual awareness program.

From 11 a.m. - 1 p.m. in the Quad, SUB, ACSG, and Avila's special interest groups will be on hand for students to become acquainted with their activities. Besides meeting with the organizations, the campus community will be entertained at noon under the big top by Jill Holly. Miss Holly will be giving a preview of her show that night.

This event also provides the chance to pick up the new Student Activities and Services Guide to Avila College. This guide is a helpful reminder to all of the services on campus along with being a practical desk blotter.

Come to Exposure '83 to take a peek at all that Avila has to offer.

Weekend dance showcase Includes two performances

A professional dance showcase is coming to the Avila campus September 9 and 10. The Mid America Dance Network will be sponsoring a workshop which includes two evenings of professional dance.

These performances will be open to all Avila students, staff and faculty on a limited first come basis. Tickets are available through the Goppert Theatre box office beginning Tuesday, September 6.

Friday evening's performance will begin at 8pm and will include one number from each of the following dance companies: The Kansas City Ballet, our hometown professional ballet company, The Susan Warden Dancers, a modern dance group from Manhattan, Kansas, COSAAN, a West African Ethnic Dance Co. from St. Louis, Rachel Lampert Dancers from Little Rock Arkansas, and the Mid-America Dance Co. from St. Louis.

Saturday evening's performance will begin at 8:30 pm and will showcase the diversity and talents of the Ririe/Woodbury Dance Co. from Salt Lake City, Utah. The co-directors Ms. Ririe and Ms. Woodbury both studied under Alwin Nickolais. Their company stretches concepts of modern dance and will be the highlight of the weekend conference.

Student, staff and faculty attendance to these programs is limited to 150 seats per evening. Additional tickets can be purchased for $5.00 for the Friday evening performance and $6.50 for the Saturday evening performance.

Both programs will be held in the Goppert Theatre. Further information is available through the Student Life Office.

Pursuing academic objectives Include multiple opportunities

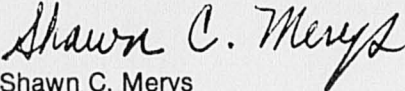

Obviously, the objective of the majority of students at any given college or university is to obtain their degrees. We, the educational consumers, in the process of pursuing our academic objectives too often lose sight of the other multiple opportunities for growth available to us.

Participation in student clubs and organizations can enrich the quality of one's education outside of the classroom. Education should not be limited to a major field of study but rather should encompass skills which can be developed through participation in extra-curricular activities such as Student Government.

Through active participation in these organizations one can enhance important communication, organizational, and leadership abilities, all of which will be useful in "life after college." Additionally, it gives the student a chance to give something back to the educational institution.

Students can be a resource of fresh new ideas and insights which can enlighten and enliven the atmosphere of their college. Avila provides the opportunities for each of its students to grow in a well-rounded manner if we accept the challenge of becoming involved.

If we accept that challenge, we can be more than a group of individuals seeking a degree. We can become a community with the common objective of multi-faceted growth. Do not merely attend college. Involve yourself with education through participation in student organizations.

Sincerely,

Shawn C. Merys
President
Avila College Student Government

SUB prepares for new year

ACSG accepts year's challenge

by Danny Reardon

This year will prove to be a challenging one for the Avila College Student Government. Joining returning members senior Shawn Merys, President; junior Suzi Crate, Secretary/treasurer; and Senators junior Margaret Michealis, Natural and Allied Health Sciences and Mathematics; sophomore Danny Reardon, Performing and Visual Arts; sophomore Mary Beckwith, Nursing; sophomore Elise Pfeiffer, Social Science; senior Pam Green, Education; and Paula Groner, Religion and undecided majors.

Shawn Merys, President, is pleased with the mixture of new and returning members. "I'm really looking forward to working with this senate," he said, "The upper division students can orient the newcomers to our policies and responsibilities, while at the same time we're bringing in new, fresh ideas."

Shawn also commented that student government is planning to become even more involved with the needs of Avila's students. "We're going to be even more alert to student concerns this year. Each senator will take a greater role in sharing the needs and concerns of students with their departmental chairpersons.

"Our main goal can be summed up as greater involvement and awareness for the students. Hopefully, this will have a cohesive effect on the entire Avila community."

One way ACSG hopes to bring more involvement is their fund-raising campaign in celebration of Avila's twentieth year. Student government is promoting a raffle to raise money for a 1984-85 freshman who is strong in leadership, character, and responsibility. This freshman would, in turn, become involved in student government activities.

For a fifty cent donation one receives a chance to win a hot air balloon ride for two and dinner at Whisker's restaurant. The drawing is October 8, and chances may be received from each Senator or the Office of the Dean of Students, lower level, Blasco Hall.

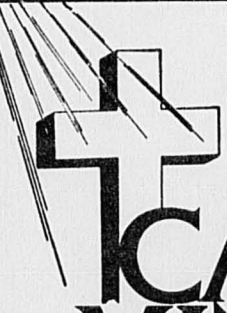

There are two positions still available in the ACSG Senate, in Modern Language and Business, as well as many open representative positions. Anyone interested should contact Shawn Merys through the Office of the Dean of Students.

SUB to present feature film series

by Linda Morris

Come join Avila students, faculty, their friends, and guests for fun-filled evenings of movie entertainment Friday nights in Marian Centre Lounge.

Evaluation team Selects Dr. Smith

Dr. L. George Smith, professor of business, was recently appointed as a member of the consultant-evaluator corp of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. The appointment was made by the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education.

The North Central Association of Colleges and Schools is the agency which is in charge of granting accreditation of institutions and programs at colleges and universities within the 19-state area extending from Ohio to Arizona.

Dr. Smith's first specific assignment involves a review of the programs of the University of Dubuque in Iowa.

The first movie this semester, which will be on September 2 at 7:00 and 9:00 p.m., will be "Stripes." Bill Murray, portraying John Winger, and Harold Ramis, playing his sidekick Russell Ziskey, join the "New" U.S. Army and almost start World War III by invading Czechoslovakia! With critics having proclaimed this movie to be outrageous, wildly funny, and solid laughs, this is one movie no one will want to miss.

"Deathtrap," the second Friday feature film, will be on September 9 at 7:00 and 9:15 p.m. Starring Michael Caine, Christopher Reeve, and Dyan Cannon, this mystery suspense thriller will keep the audience guessing what is going to happen next. Michael Caine, playing a once-successful writer of Broadway mystery hits whose recent plays have been flops, receives from an old student (Reeve) a play which he is sure would be a hit if it were his. This is only the beginning of the many twists and turns in "Deathtrap's" plot which will be sure to provide a great deal of entertainment to those who watch the film.

On September 16 "Firefox" will be presented at 7:00 and 9:00 p.m. Starring Clint Eastwood, this adventure film provides a touch of drama, espionage, and international intrigue. Eastwood starts as a top-notch NATO pilot who is assigned the task of sneaking into a Russian military station and stealing a sophisticated Soviet warplane, code-named "Firefox." This action-packed film is guaranteed to keep its viewers on the edge of their seats.

These Friday night movies, sponsored by the Student Union Board, are free to Avila students, faculty, their friends, and guests; all are invited to attend and enjoy the many feature films presented.
